Dewey & LeBoeuf is an international law firm headquartered in New York City with more than 1,200 lawyers in 15 countries, namely the United States, United Kingdom, Belgium, France, Germany, Italy, Poland, Spain, China, South Africa, Kazakhstan, Russia, Saudi Arabia, Qatar, and the United Arab Emirates.

The firm's New York office, with more than 500 lawyers, combines a sophisticated practice with a hard-working yet congenial atmosphere. Our practice areas include corporate; litigation; tax; antitrust; bank and institutional finance; business solutions and governance; compensation, benefits and employment; corporate finance; energy regulatory; insurance regulatory; international arbitration; IT and IP transactions; mergers and acquisitions; private equity; real estate; sports litigation; structured finance; and white collar criminal defense and investigations.

The summer program is designed to provide students with a realistic view of our practice by involving them directly in work being done for firm clients. Our flexible assignment system allows summer associates the opportunity to work in as few or as many practice groups as they wish. Summer associates are encouraged to engage in internal pro bono projects and to apply for our pro bono externship and fellowship programs. The summer program provides many professional development seminars, as well as information sessions held by each of our practice groups. The summer associates also have the opportunity to experience organized court tours and participate in legal writing, deposition and negotiation workshops. Summer associates are paired with associate and partner mentors who provide guidance and insight into the firm.

The firm sponsors a wide range of cultural and social events which enable summer associates to get to know our lawyers on a more informal basis. There are opportunities to appreciate the lighter side of our work through our "Wrangler" social, periodic practice group parties and our bi-monthly newsletter, "Daily & Lately."

The vast majority of our incoming associate classes consist of former summer associates. Incoming associates participate in an orientation program that familiarizes them with the firm's history, business practices, policies and management. New associates are matched with associate and partner mentors and are provided with practice-specific training, all in an effort to ease their transition into full-time legal practice. As associates progress in their careers at the firm, they have access to more than 100 training and continuing legal education programs. Associates receive formal feedback with respect to their performance twice a year.
