

Please join Dewey & LeBoeuf and the National Foreign Trade Council (“NFTC”) for a complimentary seminar on the new Iran sanctions legislation, featuring Bill Reinsch of NFTC, leading industry experts and members of Dewey & LeBoeuf’s International Trade and Legislative Practice Groups.

DEWEY & LEBOEUF

Iran Sanctions Legislation

Tuesday, July 20, 2010

8:00 am - 8:30 am | Breakfast and Registration

8:30 am - 11:30 am | Presentation

Dewey & LeBoeuf
Theatre, Concourse Level
1101 New York Avenue, NW
Washington, DC 20005

The program will address such topics as:

- The breadth of the new statute’s expanded scope of sanctionable activity
- The types of sanctions – mandatory or discretionary – to be imposed against non-US companies in response to sanctionable activity
- The effective date of the new legislation
- The extent to which the new law requires or permits sanctions against affiliates of non-US companies that have engaged in sanctionable activity
- Exemptions from the new sanctions and the administration’s latitude to forego sanctions in the face of sanctionable activity
- The administration’s enforcement plans
- The business community’s reaction to the new legislation

This seminar will also be available by videoconference at Dewey & LeBoeuf’s offices in New York, Dubai, Riyadh, Frankfurt, Milan, Moscow, Paris and Warsaw.

For more information about Dewey & LeBoeuf’s International Trade and Legislative Practices, visit www.dl.com.

For more information about the National Foreign Trade Council, visit www.nftc.org.

*California CLE credit will be available for this program in the amount of 2.5 General credits. New York CLE credit will be available for this program in the amount of 3.0 Professional Practice (non-transitional) credits. Virginia CLE credit is pending. * CLE credit amount/type is approximate and subject to change. CLE credit for other US jurisdictions will be applied for as requested.*